

I am writing as a listener to K-LOVE Christian Radio. Formerly, my family listened to K-Love radio in Denver, Colorado. More recently on the Web in Mozambique. I would hate to return home to Denver and no longer have a K-Love for my children to listen to. It is a great alternative for kids today and something I value as a parent. As a young person, I was greatly impacted by Christian radio and I value stations like K-Love today. It is a station my children and I can agree on and one that I never need worry about. I personally think it would be a detriment to my local community of Denver not to have this station. I love having this option in my community.
